

Quality

Melanko has always been interested only in the high quality products. For this reason, in the Technology Department, a laboratory operates. Here the raw materials and final products are examined, in order to keep physical and microbiological parameters right.

We also use a HACCP system and all the stages of production in our company are carefully observed. Raw materials, all that has any contact with our products, production itself, storage, and transportation are constantly monitored.